

My dream home design now includes a green house on top of the roof which provides an area that allows the growth of environmentally friendly plants as well as a good source of food and vegetation.