

In the house design, the main idea is light. Everything revolves around the house being bright and visible. The design has many glass walls in the back of the house. This would provide abundant amounts of light as well as add style and a nice look. The design also incorporates large open spaces. This aspect also deals with the light in the house. With large open spaces, especially near the glass walls, there will be abundant amounts of natural light.